

Twice as many people survive cancer compared with 40 years ago.

So, if you notice any unusual changes to your body, see your GP.

Lumps, bleeding or other unexplained changes to your body could be a sign of cancer - and the risk increases with age, especially if you're over 50. However, the good news is the earlier you find it, the easier it is to treat. So if you notice anything that worries you, your GP wants to see you.

For more information visit becancerawareni.info

Dr Frances O'Hagan, GP

BE CANCER
AWARE

GET CHECKED
EARLY